

UNIQUE CONCERT AT THE MOCHIZUKI CLUB

Two Japanese musicians, who have made a study of Occidental music, entertained an audience at the Mochizuki Club, Waikiki, last evening, a small proportion of which was composed of foreigners. The program comprised alternately Japanese and foreign selections, and it served to introduce Prof. Takaori, professor in the Tokyo Musical College, a violinist, and Prof. Iwamoto of Japan, a pianist. Prof. Takaori displayed considerable knowledge of Western music, essaying such masterpieces as Mozart's Sonata, the waltz from Faust, and La Serenata. Prof. Iwamoto accompanying him faithfully on the piano. To foreign ears the violinist showed remarkable talent, and received hearty applause. Both gentlemen are on their way to Boston to study for a year, whence they go to Italy for three years.

Pie crust is a chicken's choicest sepulchre.
—Greedy Jim.

Do you remember the pot pies of your youth? Didn't they just melt in your mouth? What wealth of exquisite gravy. What delicate pastry. What plump, juicy meat. Surely 'twas a dish designed by the gods!

A pot pie will be served at the CRITERION today noon which will be a crackerjack. Lunch 25 cents and a drink goes with it.
